Stakeholder Engagement
G4-24	List of stakeholder groups engaged by the organization.	Engaging Our Stakeholders
G4-25	Basis for identification and selection of stakeholders with whom to engage.	Engaging Our Stakeholders
G4-26	Approaches to stakeholder engagement, including frequency of engagement by type and by stakeholder group.	Stakeholder engagement responsibility spans all business units at NEE. Every employee, regardless of what the employee does for the Company, is encouraged to engage with our stakeholders. Multiple channels are used to track and measure stakeholder engagement by the Company. Please see Engaging Our Stakeholders , Customer Service , Our Partners and Engaging in Dialogue for more information on NEE's approaches to stakeholder engagement. For tribal relations please see G4-HR8 in the Social section.
G4-27	Key topics and concerns that have been raised through stakeholder engagement, and how the organization has responded to those key topics and concerns, including through its reporting.	Stakeholder engagement responsibility spans all business units at NEE. Every employee, regardless of what the employee does for the Company, is encouraged to engage with our stakeholders. Multiple channels are used to track and measure stakeholder engagement by the Company. For a list of key topics identified previously by stakeholders, please see Engaging Our Stakeholders. We actively engage with stakeholders, use feedback to inform decisions, and publicly disclose where appropriate. Understanding that our employees are one of our key stakeholders, we utilize results of employee engagement surveys to identify opportunities for improvement for the Company. FPL tracks customer perceptions of its community involvement, both through proprietary research and via national benchmarking studies. This helps FPL evaluate the effectiveness of certain programs it offers and contributes to a culture of continuous improvement. Lastly, the Company conducts various types of surveys to understand perceptions in the marketplace in order to identify opportunities for improvement. Shareholders are able to raise concerns through the annual proxy process. Please see the 2017 NextEra Energy Proxy Statement for more details.
Report Profile
G4-28	Reporting period (e.g., fiscal/calendar year) for information provided.	The reporting period for NEE's 2017 online Corporate Responsibility Report, including this GRI Index, is calendar year 2016 (January 1 to December 31), except where otherwise noted. Visit the Corporate Responsibility Report website for more information.
G4-29	Date of most recent previous report (if any).	Prior to this 2017 report, NEE's last Corporate Responsibility Report, with a GRI Index table online, was published in 2016. This report covered the 2015 reporting period.
G4-30	Reporting cycle (annual, biennial, etc.)	NEE publishes its online Corporate Responsibility Report annually.

G4-33	Policy and current practice with regard to seeking external assurance for the report.	NEE's Corporate Responsibility Report, in its entirety, has not been externally assured. However, NEE's independent registered public accounting firm, Deloitte &amp; Touche LLP, audited NEE's consolidated financial statements and internal control over financial reporting for the Company. Please see 2016 Annual Report / SEC Form 10-K (pp. 62-63) for detailed information regarding external audit assurances. Also, NEE's air emissions data has been verified by the U.S. EPA (for those facilities required to report emissions to the EPA) and California Air Resources Board (for those facilities required to report emissions to CARB). These submissions and verifications to federal and state agencies are done so under the threat of penalty of law for any false, misleading or incomplete data, which should satisfy any interested parties that emissions data has been thoroughly reviewed and verified both internally by NEE and externally by the agencies noted above.
Governance
G4-34	Governance structure of the organization, including committees under the highest governance body responsible for specific tasks, such as setting strategy or organizational oversight. Identify any committees responsible for decision-making on economic, environmental and social impacts.	The following links provide information about the governance structure of the organization. The Board of Directors and its Committees Corporate Governance Principles &amp; Guidelines 2017 Proxy Statement Governance section of this report Corporate Governance website Committees of the Board: The current committees of the Board include (click on each committee name to access the committee's charter which describes each committee's duties and responsibilities): Audit Compensation Governance &amp; Nominating Finance &amp; Investment Nuclear Executive
G4-35	Process for delegating authority for economic, environmental and social topics from highest governance body to senior executives and other employees.	Each year, the Board discusses with management the overall, long term strategy and goals of the Company. These strategic discussions include the Company's strategies and goals with respect to economic, environmental and social impacts. Economic, environmental and social topics are also included in operational goals established for each business unit by the chairman and CEO.
G4-36	Appointment of executive-level position(s) with responsibility for economic, environmental and social topics and whether they must report directly to governance body.	The Board discusses with management the overall, long term strategy and goals of the Company, including goals with respect to economic, environmental and social issues. The Company's CEO, who reports directly to the Board, is responsible for establishing economic, environmental and social goals for the Company and works with executives from each business unit to identify how these goals will be established and met across the Company's operations. Additional information on goals can be found in the 2017 Proxy Statement (pp. 54-58).

The Company's Board, CEO, presidents of its two primary subsidiaries (FPL and NEER), other relevant executives and business unit leaders are charged with developing, approving and updating the Company's purpose, value and mission statements, strategies, policies, and goals related to economic, environmental and social impacts.
G4-43	Measures taken to develop and enhance the highest governance body's collective knowledge of economic, environmental and social topics.	The Board, or committees of the Board, are regularly provided updates on the economic, environmental and social topics relevant to and affecting the Company's business and operations including, without limitation, periodic review of the Company's and its foundation's charitable contributions, the process of developing sustainable generation from wind and solar resources, and achievement of operational goals that seek, among other things, to minimize significant environmental impact and avoid work place related injuries. Additionally, the Board regularly has director education sessions on economic, environmental and social topics.
G4-44	Processes for evaluating the highest governance body's own performance, particularly with respect to economic, environmental, and social performance and actions taken in response to the evaluations.	As described in the Corporate Governance Principles &amp; Guidelines (pages 6-7), the Board reviews its performance at least annually. The review generally includes an analysis of the Board's proper discharge of its oversight role, including: attendance, preparedness, participation and candor. The Board also reviews the Company's process of developing sustainable generation from wind and solar resources, and achievement of operational goals that seek to minimize significant environmental impact and avoid work place related injuries.  The Board selects and evaluates the CEO, reviews with the CEO his or her selection of the other members of senior management, and reviews with

The evaluation is based on objective criteria including, among other factors, corporate performance, development of management, and the accomplishment of annual objectives and long-term strategic goals. 2017 Proxy Statement (page 33)
G4-45	Procedures of the highest governance body for overseeing the organization's identification and management of economic, environmental, and social performance, including relevant risks and opportunities, and adherence or compliance with internationally agreed standards, codes of conduct, and principles. Also if stakeholder consultation is used to support the identifications.	As described in the Corporate Governance Principles &amp; Guidelines (page 6), the Board reviews, and where appropriate, approves major strategies as well as financial and other objectives and plans of the Company. It also provides advice and counsel to management. The Board reviews material risks facing the Company and oversees the Company's risk management practices. A description of the Board's role in risk oversight is described in the 2017 Proxy Statement (pp. 33-34). Risk maps are used as an analysis tool to determine/document likelihood of occurrence, potential impact, and speed of onset for each of the Company's top 25 risks. The Board also receives updates on compliance with North American Electric Reliability Corporation (NERC) and U.S. Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) standards and codes, which ensures sustainable and reliable electric service. With regard to corporate social responsibility, corporate citizenship and sustainable development, NEE's Chairman and CEO, James L. Robo, continues to invest considerable time and energy leading these efforts across the Company; his leadership combined with the contributions of NEE's employees has resulted in important recognition by numerous outside organizations. In 2017, NEE was named to Fortune magazine's "World's Most Admired Companies" list, ranking No. 1 among electric and gas utilities. The Company was also named a top 10 company in the world for innovation, social responsibility and the wise use of corporate assets. NEE in 2017 was named one of the World's Most Ethical Companies for the tenth time in eleven years by the Ethisphere Institute. According to Ethisphere, the World's Most Ethical Companies designation recognizes a company's "outstanding commitment to ethical leadership, compliance practices, and corporate social responsibility." NEE is one of only 21 companies in the world to achieve this honor 10 or more times and one of just six in the energy and utilities sector worldwide to receive this recognition in 2017. Across 52 industry sectors, 124 companies (seven fewer than in 2016) were selected for this award. In addition, executive committees associated with the strategic sustainability functions (comprised of cross functional members) help set and approve relevant policies and provide direction on executing the developed sustainability strategies.

G4-57	The internal and external mechanisms for seeking advice on ethical and lawful behavior, and matters related to organizational integrity, such as helplines or advice lines.	NEE's Code of Business Conduct &amp; Ethics is publicly available and identifies the various mechanisms that are available internally and externally for seeking advice on ethical and lawful behavior, and matters related to our organizational integrity. We feel strongly about open communication and encourage employees to seek advice from someone of authority (manager/supervisor, head of business unit, Human Resources, Internal Audit, the Ethics Office, or any of the three Compliance Officers). The Code states that an employee may report their concerns or seek advice through any of the channels mentioned in the Code without fear of retaliation or negative impact on the employee's employment for having done so. We have various hotlines available for reporting concerns that are also available for external persons to use for seeking advice and/or reporting concerns. Each hotline is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week and a caller to the hotline may remain anonymous. Additionally, via our Company website, external persons are able to e-mail our executive leadership team. We also require employees to annually certify their compliance with the Code, and this certification includes an opportunity for the employee to seek advice or ask questions.
G4-58	The internal and external mechanisms for reporting concerns about unethical and unlawful behavior, and matters related to organizational integrity, such as escalation through line management, whistleblowing mechanisms or hotlines.	NextEra Energy's Code of Business Conduct &amp; Ethics is publicly available and identifies the various mechanisms that are available internally and externally for reporting concerns about unethical and unlawful behavior, and matters related to organizational integrity. The Code states that an employee may report their concerns through any of the channels mentioned in the code without fear of retaliation or negative impact on the employee's employment for having done so. The Code of Business Conduct &amp; Ethics Hotline is available internally and externally via a hotline or web portal. This hotline offers external persons and employees the opportunity to raise concerns or report issues and offers anonymous reporting also. Other hotlines that are available for reporting concerns are the Nuclear Safety Employee Concerns Hotline, Equal Employment Opportunity Hotline, and Corporate Security. Each hotline is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Additionally, employees can report concerns or issues to someone of authority (manager/supervisor, head of business unit, Human Resources, Internal Audit, the Ethics Office, or any of the three Compliance Officers). Employees are also required to annually certify their compliance with the Code, and this certification is another mechanism that employees can use to report concerns about unethical and unlawful behavior. NEE has a policy for reporting concerns which guides the employee on how they can report concerns and their responsibility to raise concerns. In addition to details on how to report concerns, the policy also includes Whistleblower Protection which expressly prohibits retaliation by the Company against employees who raise certain concerns. The Company will not discharge, demote, suspend, threaten, or harass or in any manner retaliate or discriminate against any individual by any means with respect to concerns reported in good faith or for participation in any Company investigation.
